FRANZ PAPERS ARE ALL RIGHT

COURT DISMISSED THE OBJEC-TIONS TO THEM.

Hearings as to the Independent Democrat and Socialist Labor Objections Were Postponed Until Wednesday-Action on Cases in Argument Court-Report of Attorney Watkins in the Matter of Apportioning Indebtedness of Taylor and Lackawanna.

Court yesterday dismissed the objections to the nomination papers of William Franz and declared them valid. One of the principal objections to the papers was that they did not contain the requisite $47 names. It was shown that they he i 292 names and none was successfully attacked, although it was alleged in the objections that many of the signers were Democrats or Republicans, and not members of the Citizens party, of which Mr. Franz is the candi-

Another objection was that the signatures were obtained on nine different sheets of paper, which were subsequently pasted together but only one of them was sworn to. Mr. Franz was put on the stand and testified that the nomination paper was kept in his store and when one sheet was filled another was pasted onto it and the work of securing signatures continued until nine sheets were filled in that way. The large sheet was then sworn to according to law. There was no evidence to contradict this statement of Mr. Franz and the objections were dis-

The hearings on the objections to the Independent Democratic and Socialist-Labor nomination papers, which were also set for yesterday, were continued until Wednesday.

clared is in nowise the same, and States lo even though the design patent might last call. be invalidated the other patent would not of necessity become void with it. Judge Archbald asked Mr. Coxe If he could cite any authority to prove his contention to the contrary, and the latter expressed his inability to do so, asserting that the point raised is a new one in patent practice.

Just before adjournment was taken the bankruptcy cases of A. J. Kennedy, Attorney James E. Watkins, who was et al., and Bruce Cook, et al., against commissioned by the court to make an the Clark Summit Dairy and Condensaudit and apportion the indebtedness ing company, were called, and a jury of the horough of Taylor and township was secured. Former Judge E. N. Wilof Lackawanna and the school districts lard and Attorney A. V. Bower represent the plaintiffs, and Attorneys C. Comegys and John F. Scragg appear filed his report yesterday. Mr. Wat- for the defendant company. The case will be heard this morning.

The allegations made by both plaintiffs are that the condensary company, while in a state of insolvency, transferred certain real estate to Attorney George D. Taylor, of this city, and certain personality to the Summit Dairy company, the same with intent to defraud creditors. Application is made to have the company declared bankrupt.

During a full in the court proceedings two prospective citizens presented themselves for naturalization.

"I'm afraid I'll have to refuse you. gentlemen," said Judge Archbald, with smile. "It's so near election day that I'm reasonably certain you'd have a pretty hard time resisting the temptation to vote. Come around after election and we'll fix matters up for you." "You ain't giving us a fair shake." said one of the two disgruntled future citizens as he filed out.
